These mini-grants are made possible through a partnership between the Office of Food Access (OFA), Project Bread's Child Nutrition

Zoo New England Scholarship Program

Zoo New England has recently launched a scholarship, supported by the State Street Foundation, to aid students wishing to complete the unpaid Animal Care Internship. Animal Care is a high demand field, and difficult one to break into. Often times, students gain the necessary experience for zookeeper positions by completing at least one, if not several internships. Zoo New England recognizes how limiting an internship might be to students who cannot afford to work full time for 3 month without support. To reach a broader audience of students, we've created a scholarship for those students who qualify for financial assistance from educational facilities. For more information about the Animal Care Internship, and for application and scholarship requirements, please visit <https://www.zoonewengland.org/jobs-volunteering/internships/>.
